Birmingham, March 20, 1793.

WHEREAS it has This Day been diſcovered that, contrary to the Reſolution made on the 14th Inſtant, by a reſpectable Meeting of the Inhabitants of this Town, held at the Hotel, a Canvaſs has been commenced in Favour of a Gentleman whoſe Name was not at that Time brought forward; it is hoped that no Freeholder will promiſe or engage his Vote previous to the Day of Nomination at Warwick, when it is not doubted, that Mr. DIGBY will be ſupported by ſo great a Majority, as will enſure the Concurrence of all Parties, and thereby preſerve the Peace and Unanimity of both Town and County.
